

Chimichurri Sauce

(ADAPTED FROM SARA KATE GILLINGHAM, KITCHN)

Yield: Makes 1 cup

Ingredients

- ½ cup extra virgin olive oil
- 2 garlic cloves, chopped
- 2 dried bay leaves, crumbled
- ½ cup lightly packed fresh Italian parsley or cilantro
- ¼ cup fresh lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh oregano, rosemary or thyme (or a combination)
- ½ teaspoon sweet paprika
- salt and pepper, to taste

Optional

- 1 small jalapeño pepper

Instructions

If using jalapeño pepper, cut top off and remove seeds (wear gloves or wash hands after removing seeds). Dice jalapeño into small pieces.

Finely dice all ingredients and mix together. You can also pulse all ingredients in a food processor.

Biblio Bistro

Biblio Bistro is a fun, quick and dynamic video series featuring local, nutritious and seasonal produce. It's made in partnership with Portage Lake District Library. See how to cook this recipe at pldl.org/biblio-bistro.

Substitutes

Could use exclusively parsley if dislike cilantro.

Could use lime juice in place of lemon juice.

Could use chopped onions, shallots, green onions in place of garlic.

Could also omit garlic altogether and used a garlic-infused olive oil for a milder flavor.

Pairs with

Traditionally chimichurri is served on top of red meats, such as steak or lamb, however it will taste equally delicious on poultry, fish or on top of beans/tofu!

Chimichurri has a bold flavor, so pick sides that are simpler, such as roasted potatoes, steamed rice, side salad, sautéed veggies, etc.
